

Stefano Bertacchi

your go to person in industrial biotechnology, science communication and social media!

Background:

Post-Doctoral Researcher – Development of biorefineries based on genetically modified yeasts, via a synthetic biology approach
PhD in Industrial Biotechnology: Biorefineries based on residual biomasses and microbial cell factories, food and feed sector, bioprocess modelling.

Work in University of Milan Bicocca:

- Member of the Industrial Biotechnology Group (IndBioTechLab) at the Department of Biotechnology and Biosciences
- Scholar and lecturer on the topics of biotechnology and science communication

Work as freelance Science Communicator:

- Books and articles author
- Public speaking and social media

Professional and Personal Interests:

I am passionate about bioeconomy, bio-industry, biodiversity, microbiology, genetic modification, gene editing, and communication (social media, networking, even stamp collecting).

Bioeconomy Youth Ambassadors

The Voice of Youth

s.bertacchi1@gmail.com

Stefano Bertacchi

European Commission