ESIR: an expert group to support transformative research and innovation policy

© European Union, 2020

ESIR provides the Commission services with evidence-based policy advice on how to develop a forward looking and transformative research and innovation policy that drives the sustainability transitions. Through a demand-driven approach and the involvement of a wide network of stakeholders, it addresses the most pressing societal challenges and needs.

The group co-designs policy briefs, organises outreach activities, fosters policy experimentation and proposes solution oriented policy initiatives.
